Giving children a chance to live a dream

Destination Dreams

Giving children a chance to live a dream

Every week 104 children die from a childhood illness.

When a family faces losing a child due to a terminal illness, there is very little that anyone can do to ease their pain and give them hope for the future.

Our Destination Dreams trip gives children and their families the chance to experience a fully-supported holiday of a lifetime together, where they can create precious memories to be cherished forever.

“For us it felt as though we have lived in a perfect bubble for a week where we were the norm and not the exception.”
